Summary

Edward is a member of the Honourable Society of Lincoln's Inn and was called to the bar in 2014. He studied law at the University of Hull before undertaking the legal practice course at De Montfort University in Leicester.

Edward previously qualified as a solicitor in 2012 and solicitor advocate in 2013. He practised at two leading Leicestershire law firms undertaking a mixture of civil litigation and commercial work.

Edward has a mixed civil practice that includes personal injury, contractual disputes, and property law.

In addition to his civil practice, Edward represents Claimants and Respondents in employment disputes. His experience of employment law started when he was a solicitor advising on TUPE transfers, consultancy agreements and compromise agreements. Since becoming a barrister, Edward has been instructed to provide opinions, draft pleadings, undertaken judicial mediation and appeared at a variety of hearings.

Away from chambers Edward's interests include playing rugby, cycling and travelling.
